New U.S. Raid Lashes Manila

By the Associated Press
A raid by 150 American planes on the Manila area was reported today by the Jap-controlled Manila radio. The broadcast said 50 of the planes were over Clark Field. It claimed the "raiders were effectively repulsed by the Japanese defense units."

Nazis Hurled Across Maas

By WILLIAM FRYE
LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Allied assaults threw the Nazis back across the Maas today along a 50-mile front to the sea—marred only by two small enemy pockets.

British field officers declared the German 15th Army had been half destroyed in the fierce west Holland offensive that began two weeks ago, with 65,000 Germans killed, captured and wounded while being driven northward from 25 to 15 miles.

British Army spokesmen said British and Canadian troops had bagged 25,000 prisoners and had freed 1200 square miles of Dutch territory and 570,000 Netherlands.

Already Allied dredges and minesweepers were clearing the West Schelde approach to Antwerp.

The Allies hold all the south bank of the Maas from north of Hertogenbosch to the sea except for two small pockets, each four miles long and two miles deep at the Moerdijk bridge and Willemstad ferry 16 miles south of Rotterdam.

West of these pockets, the German front became more complete as Allied troops swarmed over Tholen island and the St. Phillips peninsula to the north.

Allied troops seized all Walcheren island except the small port of Veere on the north coast and the town of Middleburg in the center.

To the east, the American First Army kept up its hard pressure from Hurligen to Schmidt, with gains measured in yards.

Allied infantry and tanks kept

There has been no confirmation of any of these raids by American sources.

Big American 155 MM artillery shells crashed into Ormoc today, springing the trap on encircled Japs on Leyte island and echoing the roar of Superfortress bombs poured on the great Singapore naval base and a vital Sumatran oil refinery.

Desperate fighting, punctuated by suicidal Banzi charges that cost the lives of 500 Japanese broke out on the edges of Leyte valley as 24th Division troops marched the first two miles unopposed down the tortuous north road toward Ormoc.

The Japs rushed reinforcements to the Bonin islands, their only remaining defenses along the southern approaches to Tokyo, and the Nippon radio reported Superforts made their second reconnaissance raid over the eastern coast of Honshu, main island of Japan.

Yank Airmen destroyed at least 70 more Jap planes and attacked 13 ships. Chinese armies reported they had halted a new invader thrust toward Lihuchow, last advanced U. S. air center in southeast China, but admitted losing contact with Yungfu, 33 miles south of Kweilin.

The hard and unexpected fighting in central Leyte broke out

LEYTE ISLAND—Yank troops today (arrows) pinned Japanese forces tighter in the Ormoc pocket on Leyte island, after surging down the west coast, following the capture of Pinamopoon on the northwest coast. Other American forces sweep up the coast from Baybay, to complete the pincers movement. Heavy artillery fire is now directed against the city.

When 96th Div. troops, led by grenadiers and flame-throwers, broke into Japanese positions in the foothills two miles west of Dagami, sword-waving officers led 600 fanatical Japs in nighttime counterattacks. Five hundred were mowed down. The Banzi charges included recently arrived reinforcements. Survivors were encircled.

Sixth Army heavy artillery roared almost continuously, raking mountain passes on the north road from Ormoc, already strewn with plane-wrecked Japanese armor and trucks. To the south, Long Toms poured 400 rounds of high explosives into Japs concentrated in Ormoc.

A strong force of B-29s smashed at Singapore yesterday, scoring direct hits on a ship and dry-docks where the Japs might try to repair some of the damaged warships that escaped from the second battle of the Philippines.

It was the longest daylight strike ever flown by military planes.

Another Superfortress flight raided the Pangkalan-Brandan oil refinery on northern Sumatra, largest enemy source of aviation gasoline not previously badly damaged by American bombs.

The 20th Air Force said no planes were lost in either raid.

Election Key Held By Bay State, Penn.

By WILLIAM HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (IN)—The first modern wartime presidential campaign comes to a close today with the outcome in the hands of millions of silent voters who can give either President Roosevelt or Gov. Dewey a landslide victory in the electoral college.

Every sign points to a close popular election, but the great mass of silent voters—who refuse to participate in polls—can give either nominee an overwhelming electoral vote by supporting him en masse.

A final week-end checkup of a nationwide poll by International News Service shows Roosevelt the favorite in 19 states with 183 electoral votes, and Dewey the favorite in 20 states with 204 electoral votes. The poll showed the remaining states may go either way.

In any event, the voters of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts can throw the election either to Roosevelt or Dewey. Most observers believe Dewey will carry New York, thereby giving Pennsylvania and Massachusetts the balance of power.

All portents meanwhile point to election of a Republican House and retention of Democratic control of the Senate. Actually the Senate probably will be run for the next two years by a coalition of Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats, regardless of the presidential result.

There are signs that politics may get one or two surprises. One is that California may go Republican, the other that Michigan may go Democratic. Two outstanding West Coast observers forecast over the week-end that California would go for Dewey by 100,000 votes. An equally prominent Detroit observer predicted Michigan would go to Roosevelt by a small margin.

The President is favored by the poll in the 10 states of the solid South, plus Tennessee, Arizona, California, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Washington, Rhode Island and New Hampshire, for a total of 183 electoral votes.

The poll favors Dewey in Maine, Vermont, New Jersey, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, Wyoming and New Mexico, for a total of 204 electoral votes.

Kentucky and Oklahoma, which favored the President last week, are now in the doubtful class.

State Candidates Keep Furious Pace to Finish

Because both Presidential candidates made Boston the scene of their final major campaign addresses, Massachusetts' vote tomorrow will be watched throughout the country.

As the nation goes to the polls in what impartial observers say may be the closest election since the Hughes-Wilson fight in 1916.

President Roosevelt's appearance here Saturday night, following by three days Gov. Dewey's swing through the state, has so heightened interest that an all-time record vote is expected, with both sides publicly predicting victory and both privately admitting the Bay State outcome is doubtful.

The President drew his campaign to its official close today with a planned speaking tour among his neighbors in New York's Hudson Valley, and tomorrow will cast his own ballot at the Hyde Park town hall.

The Chief Executive will make his last radio appearance tonight in a 15-minute speech to be carried by all the major networks sometime during the full-hour Democratic national committee broadcast between 10 and 11 p. m.

It was believed Mr. Roosevelt would devote his address to an appeal for a large vote. This was one of the points he stressed in his closing major address at Fenway Park when he urged a record 50,000 to go to the polls, and added that he was anxious to win.

Last Truman Shell Is Dud

By DAVE SENTNER AND ROBEY PARKS

Special to Boston Evening American

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 6—Harry S. Truman, tarred politically with the charge contained in sworn statements from high former officials of the Ku Klux Klan that he was a member in 1922, today awaited the verdict of the nation's electorate on his being cleared as Democratic Vice Presidential candidate by Sidney Hillman, head of the Communist-controlled Political Action Committee.

PHONY—Herbert Alan Deschene, 17, of Rochester, N. Y., faces court today in Philadelphia, after being arrested on charges of impersonating an Army nurse. Detectives say the boy admitted getting the uniform from an Albany, N. Y., hospital. International News Photo

Truman ignored the charge that he was a former Klansman in his final campaign speech Saturday night in the auditorium of the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints in Independence, Mo. Before a lukewarm audience filling only one-third of the hall, Truman spoke well of the League of Nations, asserted if the New Deal administration was returned it would insure the happiest era in the nation's history, and described Sen. Maybank (D.) of South Carolina, who was on the platform, as "an ornament to the Senate"—but neither affirmed nor denied that he, Truman, was once a member of the Klan.

Many former Klansmen were in the audience, including former officials of the hooded order who had made sworn statements regarding Truman's participation in activities of the invisible empire in order to gain their political support when he was running for county judge.

The Truman homecoming festival was marred by the fact that Boy Scout groups and military contingents declined to march in the parade on the grounds it was a political rally.

Also, the large Dewey-Bricker banner continued to beam on the parade from Republican headquarters despite the naive request from Trumanites to have it removed.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate's sponsors ship through his early public career by the corrupt Tom Pendergast political machine in Missouri also is expected to count heavily against him in tomorrow's voting.

Navy Captain Accidentally Drowns

WESTBROOK, Ct., Nov. 6 (INS)—State police today quoted 10-year-old Edward Heiney of Saybrook, Ct., as saying an accident was responsible for the death of Capt. John M. Gorett, 38, Brooklyn expert on nautical instruments, whose body was found Friday off Long Island.

Young Heiney was said to have told authorities he saw the captain drown when his dinghy capsized, also pitching his 22-year-old bride, Rose, into Long Is. and Sound waters Oct. 19. Mrs. Gorett, who wore a life preserver, was rescued.

Washington Burial For Marshal Dill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Funeral services for Field Marshal Sir John Dill, who died Saturday night, will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in Washington Cathedral. Burial of the late head of the British joint staff mission in the United States will be in Arlington National cemetery.

Dewey and F. D. Fire Final Salvos Tonight

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 6 (INS)—Gov. Dewey, carrying his battle for the presidency down to the wire, will make two eleven-hour appeals tonight to the voters.

In addition to a 15-minute broadcast from the executive mansion, which will be carried on all major radio networks between 11 and 11:15 p. m., the GOP candidate has agreed to a nationwide rebroadcast of his Saturday night speech in Madison Square Garden.

That rebroadcast will be carried over the Mutual network tonight between 9:30 and 10 o'clock.

Gov. Dewey, who returned to Albany yesterday afternoon from New York, planned to spend today working on his night broadcast, which probably will feature a request that voters generally go to the polls tomorrow.

He also received final reports from National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., concerning conditions in some of the doubtful states.

The general feeling among persons close to Gov. Dewey is that he will win if he can carry New York and Pennsylvania, and that his chances in both States are as good as those of President Roosevelt.

The GOP nominee will leave here tomorrow morning with Mrs. Dewey for New York city. They will vote early in the afternoon at a polling place near the Roosevelt hotel, which is their voting residence, and then retire to their hotel suite to await the outcome of the election.

Detectives Set for Trouble in Cambridge

State detectives of the Middlesex district attorney's office will be prepared to step in at any polling place in Cambridge if trouble brews at tomorrow's election. Asst. Dist. Atty. Albert M. Wundery said today.

By ROBERT G. NIXON
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 6 (INS)—President Roosevelt, a few hours before some fifty million Americans go to the polls in this crucial war-time election, will make his final fourth term campaign talk to the nation tonight.

The Chief Executive, climaxing a month's campaigning during which he has made seven major addresses, will speak for a quarter of an hour late this evening during an hour nation-wide broadcast sponsored by the Democratic National Committee.

The President's talk will be part of a broadcast from 10 to 11 p. m.—a program devoted to "getting-out-the-vote" and to a last-minute presentation of the Democratic party's fourth term arguments.

Earlier in the day, Mr. Roosevelt will motor over the picturesque Hudson Valley countryside, visiting his neighbors and making brief, on-the-spot re-election talks in the villages and towns of this legendary and historic Hudson highlands farm country.

The President will visit six communities in his sweep through the highways and by-ways of Dutchess County. He probably will have a few words to say in each of them.

On Tuesday morning, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will go to the polls to vote.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt will cast their ballots in the little one-story weathered town hall in Hyde Park village as has been their custom for years.

LESS MEN ABSENTEES
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Men on the average lost two days less of war work in 1943 from illness or injury than did women. The Office of War Information reported today. The average man was away from industry 11 days for such reasons. The average woman 13 days. OWI said.

CLEAR, COLD TO FOLLOW FIRST SNOW

The first snow storm of the season hit Greater Boston for several hours today, producing hazardous driving conditions although it vanished as fast as it landed.

Motorists drove cautiously as the flakes, driven by a wind of more than 30 miles an hour, clouded windshields and made road surfaces slippery.

The Boston Weather Bureau reported the only accumulation in Massachusetts was in Pittsfield with one inch. Three inches were measured in Montpelier, Vt., for the heaviest fall in New England.

The weatherman said the lack of accumulation was due to the fact that the temperature was above freezing and the ground was warm enough to melt the snow as quickly as it fell.

Forecast called for clearing and colder weather tonight with temperatures near 30 in Boston, dropping to mid-20s in the suburbs.

Parish Rites For Fr. Hurley

Before a capacity congregation of relatives, friends and parishioners, a solemn high requiem mass was celebrated in St. Patrick's Church, Cambridge, today for Rev. Patrick J. Hurley, 73-year-old pastor.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jeremiah F. Minihan, diocesan chancellor, was celebrant. Rev. John O'Donnell, St. Anne's Church, Neponset, was deacon; Rev. David F. Regan, St. Anne's, Readville, subdeacon; Rev. James H. Phelan, St. Joseph's, Somerville, eulogist, and Rev. John J. Quinlan, St. Joseph's, Somerville, master of ceremonies.

Children of the parish attended a high requiem mass in St. Patrick's earlier.

The Bishop Cheverus Assembly, fourth degree, of C. provided a guard of honor, headed by Faithful Navigator Paul E. Tierney of Somerville.

Active bearers, members of the Cambridge K. of C. Council, were Grand Knight John J. Toomey, City Councilor Michael J. Neville, Fire Capt. Henry J. O'Brien, Patrolman John J. Gannon, Jeremiah J. Coughlan, Deputy Grand Knight John J. Tobin, P. Joseph Toomey, William P. Herlihy, Leo P. McCabe, Walter T. Yorke and Brandon Powers.

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Newburyport.

Former Actress Declared Suicide

BARNSTABLE, Nov. 6—Death of Mrs. J. Clifford Turpin, 63, at Cape Cod Hospital from a revolver wound was recorded as a suicide today by Medical Examiner Ernest Curry.

Mrs. Turpin, former stage star professionally known 30 years ago as Isabel Richards, was found unconscious on her bed by her husband, a retired New York businessman. Her daughter, Mrs. Sally French, was also in the house at the time.

DADDY MOWS 'EM DOWN—Robert Chapman, 17 months, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Chapman of Chicago, sat proudly today with a picture of the youngster's father, an Army lieutenant, who used a bulldozer to cover up a Jap pillbox that held up the American advance for 24 hours on Leyte Island, Philippines.

Ancient Rites for Archbishop

Impressive centuries-old ceremonies of the Catholic Church will feature services in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross Wednesday at 10 a. m. when, in the presence of high ranking leaders of the clergy, nation and state, Most Rev. Richard J. Cushing is installed third archbishop of the Metropolitan See of New England. More than 1200 priests, 500 nuns and 1000 of the faithful will witness his elevation as spiritual leader of some 1,333,000 Catholics in the archdiocese of Boston. Taking part in the enthronement rites will be six archbishops, headed by Most Rev. Francis J. Spellman of New York, and nearly two score of bishops from all sections of the United States and Canada.

Only twice before has Boston seen these installation ceremonies, when Archbishop Williams and Cardinal O'Connell were elevated to the exalted office. After reading of Papal documents, Archbishop Cushing will be escorted to the episcopal throne where he will hear pledges of obedience from Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. J. Splaine, D.D., dean of the diocesan consultors, in behalf of the clergy, and from abbots and provincials of various religious orders.

Description of the entire colorful ritual will be broadcast over the Yankee Network by Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston College.

Charge Attack On Two Sisters

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 6—Peter Hori, 47, handyman, faced court here today on a charge of assault with intent to kill following a brutal midnight attack on two elderly sisters, Mrs. Ida Arlock, 70, and Mrs. Harry Potter, 64, the latter owner of the Potter Furniture Co.

The victims were battered in their beds, with Mrs. Arlock critically injured, her skull fractured. Her sister was less seriously hurt. Both are at Maine General Hospital.

Hori, employed by the sisters at their Noyes st. mansion for the past five years, was picked up near his home. He readily admitted the attack, police said, but gave no explanation.

"The only arguments I ever had with them were over politics and over work I had to do around the house," he was quoted by police as saying. "I had been drinking all evening and don't remember what it all was about."

The confession was taken by Sgt. Edward Kochian, Insp. William Deetjen and Patrolman William Anderson, who had laid in wait for Hori near his Fore st. home, a short distance from police headquarters.

Hori told officers he had walked around the city for hours and had planned to give himself up just as soon as he got up enough courage.

The attack occurred while the women were sleeping in twin bedrooms. Mrs. Potter, who suffered minor injuries, leaped to her sister's defense when she awakened and saw a man pounding her sister's head against the head of the bed.

Amnesia Victim's Identity Sought

Still unable to give police any aid in their efforts to identify her, a 48-year-old woman amnesia victim remained under care of doctors at City Hospital today.

A report that the victim, stylishly dressed and carrying expensive baggage when found wandering in South Station, might be a resident of Binghamton, N. Y., was being checked by police today. Her coat bore the label of an exclusive Binghamton shop, police said.

WEDDING PLANS—Ann Shirley, filmstress, and Adrian Scott, a producer, are making arrangements to middle-aisle it within the next two weeks. The Hollywood couple have been romantically linked together by the movie columnists for several weeks.

W. Bridgewater Pupils Return

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Nov. 6—Most of the striking school children at Howard High School were back at their desks today, with only 20 students missing. Seven of those were at home because of illness, reported Supt. of Schools Charles G. Taylor.

The walkout had been staged in protest against adoption of a new system of marking the excellence, or lack of it, in the work of students. Numerals were decided upon.

The students, demanding restoration of the alphabetical system, asserted the new arrangement would be unjust. They declared the lowest ranking pupils in each class would be given a flunking mark of 5, regardless of their actual percentages.

Crash Delays Commuters

Commuter trains headed for the South station were delayed from five to 25 minutes during the rush hours this morning as the result of a crash between a locomotive and an empty passenger train at a crossover in the terminal yards.

The collision, which occurred at 1:10 a. m., derailed the locomotive tender, and two rear coaches of the passenger train, blocked tracks 14 and 15 for five hours and caused thousands of commuters to arrive at work late.

Two newspaper trains, one for Providence, the other for the Cape, were delayed an hour.

New Haven officials said no one was injured and the damage was slight.

Rep. Luce, Rival Both Confident

BRIDGEPORT, Nov. 6 (INS)—Both Rep. Clare Boothe Luce and her challenger, Margaret E. Connors, 29-year-old-lawyer, expressed confidence in victory today in the hard-fought contest to see which would represent Connecticut's Fourth Congressional District in Washington next year.

William Brennan, manager for Mrs. Luce, Republican incumbent, assailed "all these political carpetbaggers, fellow travelers, Communists and Communist sympathizers" he said invaded the district.

Arthur Lynch, manager for Miss Connors, took exception to the term "carpetbaggers" and declared: "This is a funny word coming from Mrs. Luce because she is a carpetbagger de luxe traveling all over the country."

Nazis Break Silence On Hitler Activities

LONDON, Nov. 6 (INS)—The first direct report on Adolf Hitler's activities since Sept. 19 was made today by the Nazi DNB agency, which announced that the Fuehrer received Col. Gen. Johannes von Blaskowitz, an army group commander on the southern sector of the Western Front.

DNB said Hitler called Blaskowitz in to make a personal award of a "high decoration."

Crippled Hero On Honeymoon

Lt. Robert A. Beck, 24, of Woodland rd., Milton, who miraculously survived the Normandy invasion, and his new bride, the former Jan Murray, his schoolyard sweetheart, were honeymooning today after a simple wedding ceremony in St. Mary's Rectory.

Lt. Beck, former track star at Cornell, lost the sight of both eyes and also a leg seven days after D-day when a shell killed every man at an observation post except him.

Since being flown back for treatment at Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, the Milton lieutenant has recovered the sight of his eyes and an artificial leg is the next step in his rehabilitation.

Home on a 21-day leave, Lt. Beck and his fiancée decided to get married. After a wedding trip to Cape Cod they will occupy a little white bungalow in Rockville, Md., a short distance from the hospital, where he still has several months of treatments ahead.

"We have much to be thankful for," his blonde wife said after the ceremony. "Things look pretty good to us both. He has a 21-day leave and we have a house of our own. Just think of it, managing to get a house near Washington! It's wonderful."

Latins Offer New Postwar Air Plan

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A new division of delegations confronted the International Civil Aviation Conference today with the decision of 19 Latin-American republics to join in submitting a plan for a world authority limited to technical matters and retaining as a basic proposition bilateral negotiation of air rights.

This proposal, as outlined by the group's secretary, Luis Machado, a technical advisor of the Cuban delegation, appears to have these obvious differences with other plans:

It is opposed to any economic control such as envisioned in the British Empire drafts, and on its face would not grant the right of innocent passage (operational or commercial stops) proposed by this country.

It joins members of the British Commonwealth of nations in opposition to a proposal for an inter-executive council of 15 members, and proposes instead that each country have an equal voice.

Balenciaga Stresses Hour-Glass Waists in New Paris Showings

By LORELLE HEARST

Special Correspondent, Boston Evening American
PARIS, Nov. 6.—Balenciaga very definitely believes in accentuating the feminine form.

He is Spanish and he keeps this feeling in his clothes as well as hats, even in the hair style of his mannequins.

This collection is full of subtle femininity and richness. There are lots of embroidery and lace used only as the Spanish can.

Balenciaga's trend runs to the hipline.

He has kept his shoulders normal, just broad enough to flatter the shoulder. The seam is plain and fits at the end of the shoulder pad.

He is extreme only when he gets to the hipline.

From there the dress or coat takes on a full rounded effect like an hour glass. He even pads a little to give this effect.

It is very pretty and gives a woman the curves which made Lilian Russell so famous. I especially like this because I believe women should have curves and be voluptuous.

His repeats are mostly all belted in across the back. Some are long but most are knee length and a few are box coats made in lovely pale grey and beige gabardine.

He puts huge square pockets in all coats and suits, some with square pockets over the breast, also.

Skirts are straight and tight-fitting. His fullness comes into the jacket or dress at the hips.

Fullness definitely is a must in every Paris collection.

Personally, I think designers have overcome this, but I believe it has been done because there has been a material shortage for so long that now they just want to let their feeling of freedom run wild.

There was a day unit with a grass-green, knee length jacket belted back in a balloon effect with big pockets. The dress underneath was of black wool, the top well-fitted, and moulded to the figure was a narrow skirt.

Around the hipline was shirring with a huge bow over the stomach, while shirring started from each side of this plain panel.

There was very little black in this collection. However, there was one good black wool dress-maker suit, which was awfully pretty and plain except for the buttons, and the blouse buttons were mirrors about the size of a half dollar. It had a double row of these down to the tiny waist line and the jacket had a balloon look to the fingertips.

The blouse was beautiful, of over the hips and black sequin embroidery in small design all over the entire dress.

Even though Balenciaga is not famous for hats, I must tell you about them. They are the best I have seen here.

They are large, some heavy looking. However, they are better than the usual hat in Paris today. Because they are shallow they sit atop the head, mostly a little down on the forehead.

The ones I liked best were made entirely of ostrich plumes with a solid mass of old-fashioned plumes all over the top of the head with one of the tips falling off the side. They came in black and a lovely shade of cocoa brown, one mixed with black and cocoa brown ostrich plumes together was very effective.

Moscow Holds F. D. Victory Guaranteed

MOSCOW, Nov. 6 (AP)—Izvestia, Soviet government newspaper, in an article headlined, "The Election of Pres. Roosevelt Is Guaranteed," said there was a rumor that Republican interests were plotting a fake assassination attempt against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to sway American voters.

"One should not forget that history includes a number of such insolent, crude provocations, beginning with a faked document ascribed to Communists, which appear on the eve of parliamentary elections in some Democratic countries, up to the burning of the Reichstag in Germany," said Izvestia.

In an unsigned article of two columns long at the top of its third page, the paper declared: "Never before in the history of the United States have observers on the eve of a presidential election been so sure of the results as they are now because so clear is the composition of forces supporting each of the two candidates. The chances of the second candidate, Dewey, have been melting before one's eyes."

"The Hearst newspapers and the publications of McCormick, Patterson and Gannett carried on a campaign for Dewey and simultaneously this campaign was converted into a defeatist, even a pro-Hitlerite agitation," Izvestia asserted. "The support of these newspapers betrayed Dewey. Obviously his shattered position induced Dewey to resort to the old method of uttermost reaction—'scare people with the Communist danger.'"

"This hopeless attempt by the Republican party is made to cover with scarecrow rags their own political nakedness and lack of a positive program to attract voters," the paper continued. "The investment of millions of dollars by Republican headquarters will not bring any political or economic interest."

"In circles of the Republican bosses a feeling of alarm reigns. They understand failure is imminent. Under these circumstances it is no wonder, according to rumors circulating among foreign correspondents, that the Republicans in despair might resort to a big adventure."

"According to these rumors a fake 'plot' against Dewey is being prepared by the Republican party with responsibility for the plot to be fixed on American Communists. The reason for this provocation is clear—to make millions of voters jump in a different direction."

"It has been reported this fake plot will be realized at the very last moment before election with the purpose of leaving no time for denial or investigation."

Faith Rewarded, Navy Son Alive

K. S. Blair

For 2½ years, since that fateful day of March in 1942 when she was notified her son was missing in action, Mrs. Ethel Martha Blair of Dunster st., Cambridge, buoyed her hopes with a mother's instinct that somehow, her boy was alive.

Her unwavering faith was rewarded today in a telegram from the Navy Department, which informed her that Kenneth S. Blair, 32, chief signalman aboard the USS Houston, is being held a prisoner of war by Japan.

Details still are lacking, but to a mother's aching heart, news that her son is alive is sufficient for the present. Kenneth, a Boston native who enlisted in the Navy in 1929 after his graduation from the High School of Commerce, is one of her three sons in service. In his 13-year Navy career, before his ship was lost and he was reported missing in a sea fight off Java, Blair had become one of the youngest chief signalmen in the Navy.

His two brothers, both in the Army, are Roger and Arthur.

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP) The European inland transport conference today faced adjournment in failure with American and Russian delegates deadlocked over a proposal to grant authoritative power to the new Allied transport organization.

The crisis arose when the American delegate, Robert Hooker, Jr., proposed the organization's executive board have power to dictate decisions to smaller nations without their approval. Maj. Gen. Obyden, representing Russia, opposed Hooker's proposal, insisting the board should be only consultative and smaller nations should have the right to make their own decisions. Of eight small nations represented, all except Yugoslavia supported the American proposal.

Unless a compromise can be reached with a few days, reliable quarters said the conference would adjourn and the whole thing be forgotten for the time being.

Tune In Tomorrow, Learn Who's Elected

Up-to-the-minute returns in tomorrow's election, with interpretative comments by political experts, will be broadcast over Station WMEX tomorrow night direct from the editorial rooms of the Boston Record-American.

Through special arrangements between WMEX and the Record-American, broadcasting equipment will be installed in the editorial rooms where a constant flow of returns will be coming in from all parts of the state and the nation.

The broadcast will start at 7 p. m. and continue until such hour as the returns indicate winning margins for the various candidates.

During the long broadcast, seasoned political writers will give listeners an analysis of what the returns mean and the possible trends indicated by the voting in various crucial areas.

Among the commentators will be Austin Lake, Boston American feature writer, Sports Editor Jack Conway, Frank Reilly and Henry L. Daily, veteran political writers, and George Brady, chief editorial writer for Boston Herald newspapers. John W. English, State House reporter, will be in charge of the broadcast.

Listeners will also hear from candidates whose elections are assured on the basis of returns broadcast during the election show.

Keep tuned to WMEX from 7 p. m. tomorrow for fast, accurate and clear reporting of the returns by the Boston Record-American.

HOME OF Heart & the Petticoats

Dewey Given Best Chance by Analyst

By GEORGE BROWN

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Tuesday's election will be determined by the extent to which Roosevelt's huge losses of Democratic votes may be offset by the endorsement of Republican votes on the war issue.

Starting in the Gulf States, a revolt against the New Deal's brazen alliance with Sidney Hillman and the American Communists is sweeping the country clear to New England.

Thousands of Democrats will cross party lines this year for the first time.

Roosevelt will be scratched heavily in Democratic states which he has three times carried, some of them vital to him.

He must make up these losses, and has cleverly played upon the heart strings of those with loved ones on foreign battlefields.

For the first time in his White House career the President has been forced on the defensive, and he is not a good defensive fighter. He has slipped badly in the past month, perhaps fatally during the last two weeks.

The chances no longer favor him, but Dewey, who has gained steadily in these last two weeks, whether to a sufficient extent or not is unpredictable.

Many losses Roosevelt will sustain will be in southern states whose electoral votes he will take anyhow.

Dewey's Madison Square Garden speech, in which he declared Roosevelt and Morgenthau have stiffened German resistance and made it less likely that Eisenhower can win the war this year, should arrest threatened Republican defection on the war issue.

Democratic defection reflects principally a fear that the reelection of Roosevelt would give control of the Democratic party to the radical elements in the New Deal and make it a permanent left-wing party.

This is largely why states like Texas and Mississippi are in revolt against Rooseveltism.

In some states, the female of the species may prove to be more deadly to the fourth-term seeker than the male. There were many signs, in California for example, that a heavy vote would be cast by women against Roosevelt.

Women have most suffered from the annoyances of rationing and all the rest of the irksome and exasperating nuisances inflicted by the crackpots and nutwits in the Washington bureaucracy.

But one also finds among the women a strong feeling, not against the war, which all are eager to win, but against the way in which, they believe, we were got into the war.

The Democratic ticket this year, for all of Roosevelt's popularity, is weak.

Harry S. Truman is probably the most infinitesimal public man ever nominated for Vice-President.

Protege originally of the corrupt Pendergast machine of Kansas City, who would not repudiate the boss even when the latter went to the penitentiary; bearing the endorsement of Sidney Hillman; apologist of the political machine; welcomer of Communist support, and draped in the white sheet of the K. K. K., Truman has been a pathetic figure. He put the lid on in Boston with an insult to Democratic Sen. Walsh which has probably cost Roosevelt the electoral vote of Massachusetts, a vote disbanding the President's belated eulogy of the late Al Smith.

unless, as always, a factor in the campaign. The wives of the two Democratic candidates for President have been unusually silent during the campaign.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Dewey have both been conspicuous by what they do or say while their husbands are seeking the presidency.

The wife of the President who seeks reelection has made no campaign speeches for him, although it would be impossible to tally the number of times she has made speeches on every other subject since she became First Lady a dozen years ago.

Mrs. Roosevelt has denied that any suggestions connected with her husband's campaign have been made to her.

Her schedule shows that she has spoken to political groups urging them to get people to register at the polls and then to get out the vote.

Mrs. Dewey accompanied her husband on his strenuous, far-flung campaign trips, looked pretty and smiled at everyone. But she was careful to say nary a word.

Mrs. Brucker also has accompanied her husband. She met the press for what she calls a visit instead of a press conference. Meanwhile, she has been to a campaigning on a person-to-person basis without any public speaking.

Mrs. Truman for the most part has stayed in their Washington apartment while her husband campaigned on his long cross-country campaign.

Dr. Carrel, Famed Biologist, Dies

PARIS, Nov. 6 (AP)—Dr. Alexis Carrel, 71, surgeon and biologist, who won international fame for his medical findings, and invention of a mechanical heart in research with Charles A. Lindbergh, died yesterday.

His Paris office said Dr. Carrel, Nobel prize winner and author of the widely-published "Man, The Unknown," had been ill with a heart ailment for some months.

From 1906 to 1939, Dr. Carrel was a staff member of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research in New York.

In 1935, Dr. Carrel and Lindbergh announced development of a mechanical heart, in which the heart, kidney or glands from an animal could be kept alive for study in glass chambers, supplied a mixture of oxygen, carbon dioxide and nitrogen.

Fever Worries Ann Sheridan

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6 (INS)—Spells of fever and other symptoms will cause film star Ann Sheridan to consult an expert on tropical diseases, it was learned today.

The red-haired actress recently returned from an overseas trip to Africa, India, Burma and China.

"It's merely a precautionary step," she said.

The actress lost 12 pounds on her trip but said she had gained back five.

"I imagine all I need is a little more rest," she said.

Widow Found Dead With $1700 in Purse

After neighbors had missed her and notified police, Mrs. Amanda Warrington, 55, a widow, was found dead in her Douglass st., Cambridge home yesterday with more than $1700 in her clothing and effects, and accounts in at least two Cambridge banks.

Using a fire ladder to gain entrance through a second story window, police found the woman lying face down on a bedroom floor.

because "never before in my lifetime has a campaign been filled with such misrepresentation, distortion and falsehood."

Gov. Dewey, meanwhile, mapped plans to end his bid for the presidency also with a nationally broadcast speech from the executive mansion in Albany at 11 p. m. in which he will urge his supporters to go to the polls and will thank them for their work in his behalf.

Dewey's address tonight will be the 22d major speech he has made in his vigorous campaign since he was nominated at Chicago 10 months ago, and will give him his final opportunity to hammer home the theme that what this country needs is not a New Deal but a New Deal.

Tomorrow Dewey goes to New York City where he and Mrs. Dewey will vote and listen to the election returns.

Spurred by the vigorous national contest, candidates for state office today battled right down to the deadline in a feverish, whirlwind drive to capture votes they believe may still be on the fence.

Both Lt. Gov. Cahill and Boston's Mayor Tobin, his Democratic opponent for governor, planned night-before radio addresses to climax a bitterly fought race which political experts said would be close.

Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook estimated that with a registration of approximately 2,500,000, the total vote this year would approach 2,500,000. Four years ago the vote was 2,026,993.

The number of absentee soldier votes in Massachusetts is estimated at 150,000, and if the race is close these ballots may be the determining factor. Although Massachusetts has approximately 450,000 in service, about 25 per cent are not eligible to vote because they are under 21.

Taking their cue from the last-minute activity of the heads of both national and state ticket, candidates for all state offices planned to keep their campaigns going at the fast pace which has marked this election as the most hotly contested in years.

All Republican candidates made capital of Sen. Walsh's failure to appear at the President's Fenway Park rally and asserted even the President was unable to head the breach Sen. Tobin caused when he termed the senior Massachusetts Senator "an isolationist whom we hope to reform."

When Walsh waded out of the presidential special train at Allston, refusing to attend the rally, GOP candidates fully charged that the President could not keep peace in the world for the next four years if he couldn't keep peace in his own party for 24 hours.

Nevertheless, Republican leaders conceded that many of the State contests would be close, and even political veterans said the only candidate on the statewide ballot who seemed certain of victory was Gov. Saltonstall.

Except for an unexpected landslide vote, they believed Saltonstall would pile up a commanding lead over Mayor John H. Corcoran of Cambridge, his Democratic opponent for the unexpired four-year term in the Senate caused by resignation of Sen. Lodge.

Ranking next in interest to the national and Governor contests is the rough and vigorous battle which former Lt. Gov. Francis E. Kelly, Democrat, and Governor's Councilor Clarence A. Barnes are waging for Attorney General.

Both candidates claim sweeping victories, but the outcome is regarded as doubtful. Other campaigns which have attracted widespread attention are those for Secretary of State, in which Frederic W. Cook, perennial Republican winner, is opposed by Mrs. Margaret M. O'Riordan; for State Treasurer, between the Democrat, John E. Hurley, and Republican Fred J. Burrell; for Auditor, between Democratic incumbent, Thomas J. Buckley and Frank A. Goodwin, former registrar of motor vehicles, and for Lieutenant Governor between Bradford, Republican, and Somerville Assessor John B. Carr, the Middlesex Dist. Atty. Robert F. Democratic nominee.

Many people who wear false teeth find them awkward and sore in the mouth. This is because the teeth do not fit properly. The only way to avoid this is to have a set of false teeth made by a dentist. A dentist will take a mold of your mouth and make a set of teeth that will fit you perfectly. This will make them comfortable and easy to wear.

Reveal Truman Plan To Hold Servicemen

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—Postponement of military discharges after the war as a substitute for immediate re-employment of millions of men in the armed forces was disclosed today as part of the secret postwar program advocated by Sen. Truman.

Truman's scheme, in direct conflict with assurances given in the Truman committee report of Nov. 3, 1943, and reprinted for political distribution on March 4, this year, was uncovered by the New York Journal-American in correspondence between President Roosevelt's running mate and John Williams, young Kansas City, Mo., business man now in the armed forces.

Truman wrote Williams on March 3 last, when the latter was living in Kansas City. The letter read:

"In answer to your letter of Feb. 24, the real reason behind talk of postponement of discharge after the war was to prevent unemployment. Men would be let out of the service only so fast as they can be absorbed into industry.

"This will be determined by the postwar military needs, as well as the ability of industry to convert to a peace time basis.

"These considerations and only these will govern the national policy."

This statement is widely at variance with the pronouncement of the Truman committee before its chairman was cleared with Sidney Hillman for the vice-presidential nomination.

That report read in part that "the congress has never authorized either the War or Navy Departments to provide a WPA for forcing soldiers or sailors to remain in the Army or Navy."

COMMUNISTS AND FOURTH TERM

IT HAS BEEN a matter of general knowledge from the beginning of this campaign that the Roosevelt fourth term candidacy has not derived its driving force from the DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Governor Dewey discussed this strange and unprecedented situation in his speech here in Boston last Wednesday night.

Why has the Presidential nominee and titular head of the Democratic Party been compelled to conduct almost his entire campaign with supporting leadership supplied by two such organizations as the Communist Political Association of Earl Browder and the Political Action Committee of Sidney Hillman—organizations which are not affiliated with the Democratic Party, and not only have nothing in common with it but are REPUGNANT to its responsible leadership and its rank and file membership?

Isn't it because the real Democratic Party has long since dissociated itself from the New Deal Administration?

As Governor Dewey said:

"The New Deal is not a party.
"It is a COLLECTION of parties, all of which HATE EACH OTHER."
This came about, said Governor Dewey, because:

"For 12 years the great Democratic Party has been under the crushing dominance of one man . . .

"Mr. Roosevelt, in his overwhelming desire to perpetuate himself in office for SIXTEEN YEARS, has put his party on the auction block—for sale to the highest bidders."

THE HIGHEST bidders, as Governor Dewey observed—and as every American knows—were "The Political Action Committee of Sidney Hillman and the Communists of Earl Browder."

Who is Earl Browder?

"He is the man who was convicted of DRAFT DODGING in the last war," recalls Governor Dewey.

"He was again convicted—this time of perjury—and pardoned by Franklin Roosevelt in time to ORGANIZE THE FOURTH TERM CAMPAIGN."

What is Communism, according to Browder's own definition?

"We Communists do not distinguish between good and bad religions," he has written, "because we think THEY ARE ALL BAD for the masses."

Governor Dewey gave a broader definition.

"Communism is for state ownership of all property," he said, "including YOUR house, YOUR farm, and the factory, the shop, the office in which YOU work."

"It stands for absolute dictatorship, the abolition of civil rights and total political and economic bigotry."

WHO IS Sidney Hillman? He is, as Governor Dewey says, the leader of the American Labor Party which has been called "a COMMUNIST labor party" by President David Dubinsky of the International Ladies Garment Workers' Union who was one of its founders but now repudiates it.

Moreover, according to Governor Dewey: "Sidney Hillman has become the BIGGEST POLITICAL BOSS IN THE UNITED STATES" as chairman of the Political Action Committee which has taken as its cynical slogan:

"Politics is the science of how you gets what, when and why."

Thus we see what is BEHIND the fourth term. Not the Democratic Party surely, but COMMUNISTS AND COMMUNISM.

Let the American people dissociate themselves from this rising menace to their freedom as resolutely and completely as the real Democratic Party has already done.

I loved a lass, a fair one,
As fair as ever was seen;
She was indeed a rare one
Another Sheba queen,
She would me "Honey" call,
And, oh, she'd kiss me, too;
But now, alas! she's left me,
Faler, less, less,
—GEORGE WITHER.

DON'T KNOW who wrote the first torch song, but the above is an excerpt from one written 300 years ago. It is interesting to note that even that far back "Honey" was a term of endearment. It is still the favorite of 70 per cent of wives and sweethearts. In Texas it is the 100 per cent choice. Life insurance experts say the best risks are tall, thin men whose parents and grandparents have been long-lived. I guess they could prove this by Connie Mack, the baseball manager. However, the claim lets me out. I am tall but not thin. My parents were early long-lived but my grandparents were not. This is very depressing. Now that I have just about perfected the racing system that is to take care of me in my old age, along come these life insurance experts and state that perhaps I won't have any old age.

PLEASE NOTE: It has been claimed a great advantage in being a second wife is that you get a husband already trained and thoroughly broken into matrimonial harness. He has learned not to drop ashes on the floor, or make a mess of the bathroom after taking a shower, or to be late to dinner, or to forget his wife's birthday or the wedding anniversary date. And so on. Our Horses & Women and Mules & Men Departments are checking on this claim. Have you heard any second wives boasting of having well-trained husbands? And by any chance did they give the credit to the gentleman's first wife?

ASIDES: Note Adolphe Menjou referred to as a "French snootie." Menjou was born and brought up in Pittsburgh, Pa. His mother was Irish; his father French. The average man has his fare paid and is out of a taxicab in 30 seconds or less. The average female takes at least two minutes, or four times as long, to pay and get out of a cab. . . . I beg you cease referring to housewives who claim to do their work in three hours a day," writes a Detroit, "My children are aged three, two and one, respectively. I am 21. Telling me 16 hours a day to get everything done."

WEIGHT: A health expert has issued a scale of weights detailing what persons of various heights should weigh in "ordinary clothing." The question arises: What does "ordinary clothing" weigh? I figure the average man's attire, including hat and shoes, weighs about seven pounds. As to what the average woman's clothes weigh, I couldn't say. I would imagine that in fall and winter, not counting the weight of her mink coat, a woman's clothes weigh about three pounds. In the summer probably about a pound and a half. I must ask Ann Sheridan about this.

Ann Sheridan

WOMEN, ETC.: A Detroit woman thinks there should be a law calling for a wife to receive half her husband's salary direct from the office. She asks me what I think of the idea. I don't care for it. However, I believe wives who are exclusively home managers should be paid a salary. I do not like the idea of a woman having to ask her husband for money for her personal expenses. This angle has been a major cause in many a divorce. Is also one of the chief reasons that so many women have chosen to work in an office or factory rather than to manage a home. However, I do not wish to become too involved in this argument. I have no idea how much a home manager should be paid. All I know is that ordinary cooks and maids are demanding $150 a month, plus room and board.

SIDEGLIGHTS: A Flushing, L. I., subscriber describing herself as "a natural redhead," writes: "Natural redheads are usually loud, snarling and distrustful 'one man' women. Blondes are self-centered. Any woman I have met who has turned out to be a cold snake is always a brunette." . . . A New Yorker saying she held one card and drew a royal flush asked what the odds against such an occurrence were. I stated experts said odds were 60,000 to 1 against drawing a royal flush. Michael MacDouglas known as "The Card Dealer" says that when a player of poker holds one card the odds against drawing a royal flush are 178,361 to 1.

"His point is: why should buck privates be the only ones without something on their helmets?"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1944, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt spoke boldly about Al Smith Saturday night in his old-style campaign stand to save Massachusetts by reassuring the Boston citizens of Irish blood on the subject of Hillman, Browder and Communism.

Smith is in his grave.

Only for that reason could a man for whom Al long ago had lost respect invoke his name in a manner to suggest to a group who were peculiarly Al's own, that Roosevelt and Al Smith were friends to the end and that Al would have supported him now.

As everyone knows, however, who talked politics with Smith in the last few years, Roosevelt had not even his trust, much less his friendship.

Al hated Communists and those who carry on political traffic with them as honestly and openly as he hated the Nazis. He parted from Roosevelt long ago and accepted the revilement which he knew would be heaped upon him by the Roosevelt corps of character assassins as punishment for his high principle and masculine courage.

To Al, their hatred was an honor for, to him, this conspiracy represented all that is vile and hateful in American politics, including the exploitation of racial and religious animosities. Roosevelt would not have dared call up his name as he did in Boston had the Happy Warrior been alive to challenge him.

SMITH HAD suffered from religious prejudice. It may have been the factor which actually cost him the presidency in the days when Roosevelt's friend and appointee to the Supreme Court, Hugo Black, was a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

Roosevelt, on the other hand, through Hillman and his Communist organization, had been stirring up anti-Semitism in this campaign as a means of exploiting fear so that he might carry New York.

By this propaganda, it has been set forth that Tom Dewey is anti-Semitic because, in the inevitable study of Hillman's career, it has been pointed out that he was born in Lithuania.

Even the most friendly biographers have mentioned Hillman's religion. This is no more inflammatory than mention of Roosevelt's religion or Smith's. It has been fair to say that Roosevelt was born at Hyde Park, N. Y., and Dewey at Owosso, Mich.

But, because all studies of the Communist domination of Hillman's Political Action Committee have duly noted the place of Hillman's birth, the lesser breeders of hate and, finally, Roosevelt, himself, attempted to impute to Dewey a prejudice against the foreign born and the sons and daughters of immigrants.

NO WORD in any of Dewey's campaign speeches or in any of his papers in the past could be cited to support this appeal to the most dangerous and detestable passions.

Roosevelt selected the closing days of the campaign to spread this propaganda on a subject which, up to then, had been shunned by the Republican candidate. His Boston speech was a direct appeal to the hostilities of Irish descent as Catholics and former followers of Smith. His idea seems to have been that by this method he could lull the suspicions of an important element, perhaps a decisive element in the Massachusetts vote, regarding the Communists in Hillman's committee.

ROOSEVELT IMPOSED on Smith again when he said that in the 1932 campaign: "I was then running, at his request, for the Governorship of New York."

As far as he went, that is true but he didn't dare to tell the whole truth because Smith and John Raskob actually had to post a tremendous sum of cash which Raskob personally underwrote to induce Roosevelt to accept the nomination.

This money was for the Warm Springs Foundation in which Roosevelt had become heavily involved. And this man, whose propagandists later vilified Smith and Raskob as economic royalists, Tories and reactionaries, was delighted then to receive this DuPont money as a first condition of his acceptance.

Nor did he reveal that Smith's sole reason for naming him and Raskob's only purpose in putting up the money was that Smith and Raskob were determined to repeal the corrupting blight of Prohibition.

Hollywood Today

By Dorothy Manners

Substituting for Louella O. Parsons, Who Is on Vacation

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6—John Carroll's first movie after three years in the service is "Beside Manner." Fact is, Andrew Stone has not only snagged John from M-G-M but he also gets Ruth Hussey from the same company for the co-starring role. It's her first since the birth of the baby.

There's a funny angle about clearing the title to "Beside Manner." That is the original title on the Robert Carson magazine story which Stone bought. But when he came to register it with the Hays Office he found six companies had claims to the title (not the story). After much backing and filling, Andy cleared the rights because he had a story as well as the name. Picture starts rolling with Stone producing and directing around the 15th.

JUST ONE of the little ironies of Hollywood casting—Eleanor Parker, who just got a divorce, is cast as one of the most sympathetic wives of the war. She gets the role of the girl who marries Sgt. Al Schmid in "This Love of Ours." John Garfield, you know, plays Al, the blinded Marine hero, in this movie based on Schmid's life and war career. Delmar Daves, the director, takes off for Philadelphia to shoot authentic backgrounds. And in a few days Garfield follows. Warners is making every effort to use executive actors in this film, and one of the first signed is Dune Clark, who will play Schmid's (or Garfield's) buddy.

WHEN SOMEONE asked Maria Montez what her sister was like she said, "Oh, she's my complete opposite. Blonde and very spiritual!" Which gives a rough idea (but certainly not too rough) of 16-year-old Lucia Montez, who has been asked to make a test by Universal. The other sister, 18-year-old Adita, isn't even slightly interested in a career, which sounds as if she might be even more "ethereal" than Lucia, if you ask me.

IT LOOKS like Fred MacMurray for "Bandwagon" at 20th. Fred wants to do it because of the musical angle, which might give him a chance to toot his sax. It will be a welcome relief to the rest of us because it treats of politics in a light vein. After the current heavy artillery that's something. Speaking of "Bandwagon," Gregory Ratoff verifies he will not produce it, as originally advertised, but remains as the director. Bill Peiberg is in the driver's seat—producer to you.

SIDE LINES: Mickey Rooney has landed overseas, where he's leading a military band. Well, the Mick has always wanted to lead a band, even if he had to get in the Army to do it. . . . The scripting job on "Lucky Baldwin" has been turned over to Dalton Trumbo. This story is still top choice for Clark Gable's return to the screen, and Spencer Tracy is the alternative if, for some reason, Clark nixes it. . . . The Dennis

O'Keefe, who want a big family, will adopt a boy and girl after the war to augment their present clan of two. The doctor has advised against Steffi Duna having any more children. . . . After December 9 Lily Pons and Andre Kostelanetz are giving up all professional and commercial deals, opera, concerts and radio shows to set out on 13 weeks of war zone entertaining. . . . Peggy Fears' heart in New York is getting worried. He's on his way to see about rumored "heart trouble" out here.

DEREK COOPER, Hal Wallis' find, is lost to Hal and "Love Letters." He has left for the Army and the important part he was playing (Joe Cotton's younger brother) has been taken over by Byron Barr, the young actor who scored as the hot-headed lover in "Double Indemnity." Nice gesture on Wallis' part to assure Cooper his contract will be taken up where he left off when the war is over.

BETTY HUTTON gets home Nov. 20 after hanging on a very bamboo and hurdling every fox hole in the South Pacific. The blonde bombshell has been a lot with the boys, many of whom asked for "rebut" duty after some of her wilder performances. Just a few nights ago Para sneaked Betty's raw picture, "Here Come the Waves." She plays a dual role. So imagine the surprise when a fan wrote in saying: "I liked Hutton very much, but I think her sister, Marion, is just as good!"

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS:

Are the Robert Huttons taking divorce in New York after less than a year of marriage? He is the good-looking boy (reminds you of Jimmy Stewart) who played the lead in "Jane" and she is Natalie Thompson, former Beverly Hills debutante; Phyllis Brooks is maaaaad about that man, Lt. Torbert McDonald. She's even cancelled an appearance tour to remain East where he's stationed; fans who have been writing in asking about Phillip Reed will be glad to learn he is recuperating at Corona Cal., Naval Hospital and is well enough to be up and around after an abdominal operation. Lana Turner at Slapsy Maxie's (with Turhan Bey, of course) in a black satin dress that almost stopped the flea show; its only a matter of time before Buff Cobb and Lt. Greg Beauter tell it to a judge. May be an annulment; since Sheila Ryan and Steve Crane chatted, his evening on, taken up by Peggy Maule, they're calling Charles Arnt "Young Charles Laughton" in "Dangerous Passage." Does that make Laughton a mature Charles Arnt? That's all today.

thies of champagne are scheduled to arrive in the United States for the Christmas trade. . . . Lena Horne's new friend is a handiworker recently divorced in Florida. . . . Lorraine Wallace of Virginia and Martha Stewart, the singer, are dead-end rivals for Joe E. Lewis' heart. . . . Max Jelin, who dropped $100,000 when he produced "Lower North" this season, will make it all back as landlord of the Belasco Theater.

IRENE DUNNE is the future debut of a new romantic venture. . . . Sonja Henie and Michael O'Shea, whose verbal battles on the "It's a Pleasure" set were the talk of movieland, literally kissed and made up just before she came to New York. They turned the hat-trick while posing for "kissing" stills. . . . More than 2000 requests by businessmen for passports to Paris have been turned down by the State Department in the past week alone.

THE J. J. SHUBERT apartment at the Savoy building is home to a new romantic venture. . . . Betty Newland admits she adores Al Bloomingdale. . . . Marcia Dale of the Diamond Horseshoe bivy, is wearing a $1000 mink coat. The donor is said to be a famous actor. . . . The Pentagon building now has its own psychiatrist—Dr. Irma Bach. . . . Kay Williams' dad came to Gotham from Erie, Pa. "To get a look at this Marco!"—and liked him. . . . Lord Creger, who shed some 100 pounds, faces a serious operation next month. . . . The Roland Browns (he's the movie director, she's the multimillionaire William Heits daughter) have Reno in the bean-o. . . . Irving Yergen is leaving Warner Bros. to be boss of the Hollywood Reporter.

ANN MACE, who's been working at the Diamond Horseshoe since she was 16, is leaving to work in Mike Todd's new show. Doesn't seem possible—she's as much of a fixture around the D. H. as Billy Rose. . . . Yvonne Day's engagement ring to Harry Richman has lasted longer than any of his marriages to other gals—so long that she's worn out one engagement ring, an aquamarine, and now has a new one, paved with diamonds.

Naturally the order did not come through, so a big shot at committee headquarters called the printer. The latter said he couldn't deliver because there was a strike on.

"That sort of an excuse won't go!" bellowed the big shot. "Don't you know there's a campaign going on?"

THE ELECTION'S over tomorrow and I hope I have heard my last campaign gag. At the Barnsbee's Luncheon in New York, the other day, Larry Spivak, the magazine publisher, got off this one:

"Fellow is asked if he is going to vote for Dewey. Fellow says no, and is asked why. 'Because,' says the fellow, 'I am unalterably opposed to this idea of a first term!'"

Boston After Dark

EXCLUSIVE: Frank (The Voice) Sinatra will appear at Symphony Hall, Sunday, Nov. 26—his first "concert" appearance. . . . Thriving under a work schedule which recently has seen sustained political activity a unexpected addition. The Voice's managers are going to let The Swann-maker skip up to Boston on his night off.

HE WILL BE WORKING regularly at that time in the Waldorf-Astoria's Wedgewood Room in New York, at an amazing fee of 50 per cent for food, liquor and service costs. The Voice's influence on American entertainment may be estimated. . . . (With any kind of break the Waldorf can break even on Sinatra under the current arrangement.)

HIS BOSTON MANAGERS probably expect to do a little better. . . . They are Spencer Fuller, Inc., and the Fuller of the outfit is George Fuller, once of Dartmouth and well-known promotionally in Boston. . . . This same enterprising firm has made other bookings of consequence for the Fall and Winter season. . . . It will be Sinatra's first Boston appearance since he shattered all records at the Koth-Boston Theater last season. . . . At that time, he withdrew from Our Town the sum of $3,500 for a week's work. . . . This lends support to the theory that Sinatra's lack of blood, vitality, vitamins, weight, stamina, resistance is a myth. . . . Else how could he carry all that dough to the bank? (The original gag belongs to Henry Youngman).

HEADED BY STEVE EARLY, the President's secretary, and with Ambassador John B. Winant said to be a member of the group, a Presidential party of 11 dined at Jack Larkin's Red Coach Grill preceding FDR's speech Saturday at Fenway Park. . . . Although Police Commissioner Sullivan made the reservations with Head Waiter Paul Salano, the visit to the Red Coach Grill was a friendly tribute by Secretary Early to a Boston waiter. The waiter is Steve Morrison.

SCOTTY HAS BEEN the elected servant of Mr. Early for many years—since the inception of the New Deal, in fact at Pinehurst, N. C. . . . The two have become friends.

and the relationship of and water has been quipped at Pinehurst. Scotty and Steve swam on the golf course. . . . have also corresponded.

POLITICS: Drew Pearl (quotation of history a radio program was made in at least one statement. . . . He said that Lincoln elected in wartime to the j dency by a "wide margin." As a matter of fact, Lincoln captured only 53 per cent of the vote in his first election. . . . And Pearson said 900 Pennsylvanians were laughed so that they journey northward to polling places.

WHEN THE VOTES counted in Massachusetts, John Corcoran of Cambridgeshire emerged with the th of his party and the constitution of the electorate. . . . Y Corcoran stepped into an open Democratic breach. . . . He volunteered to back Senator Sallon for U. S. ator. . . . If ever a cause seemed hopeless, politics that was it. . . . Yet Jaw conducted a dignified and aggressive campaign in the Sallonist would win a landslide.

HOLLYWOOD—Fred after fumbling a while playing a scene in "The Big," said, "It's been cool in here—I'm blowing."

He is noted for ad lib and on the set the cast around waiting for him to be funny. Between scenes, he tries to oblige but when he is doing a scene he is strictly business.

His real name is Fred Sullivan. He Fred Allen he also has been known as Huckle, European Entente He played vaudeville as Fred James, with the billing, "Worst Juggler."

He was born on May 31, in Cambridge. His theatrical career started while he working in a Boston hardware store. A friend had been to play an act. The friend stage fright and got Allen take his place. Nothing freed Allen, and besides, he earned the five-dollar salary.

He then went into vaudeville. He is five feet seven in tall, weighs 165 pounds. Blue eyes and blond hair sounds as if he has a clasp on his nose.

FRED'S WIFE is Port Hoffs, who is well known the radio listeners. They when they were both in "Passing Show of 1922" can be seen almost walking the streets of Broadway holding hands.

He shaves himself, prefers bath to a shower, and 1 hair treatments to keep his hair. He insists upon getting 4 hours' sleep. He doesn't like to company, but they know when to leave. In regular apartment, he signs which informs the g that they can stay and ha good time, but they can't his company after 2 a. m.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—I am about to make a sensational prediction. There will be only one lame duck in the entire United States Senate!

The solitary lame duck will be Sen. Hattie W. Caraway of Arkansas!

Want to know why? Because she is the only female!

The rest will be time drakes.

THE ONLY reason I am working the gag off on you is that I had it worked on me. But it really did start a rather interesting train of investigation.

First I made sure that Congress really has been using the wrong gender. Hey, proof-positive! Make that "gender not gender!" The dictionary offered confirmation as follows: "Duck, a female duck as distinguished from the male, or drake."

Then I tried to find how the term came into existence. It proved a difficult task and largely unproductive.

In fact, about all I could learn was that it was first employed about 1763 to mean any person mentally or physically disabled. The dictionary had nothing more to offer and various encyclopedias skipped the subject entirely.

The Library of Congress had no information on its origin or how it came to mean a member if Congress defeated for reelection.

I asked various Representatives and Senators. Not one of them knew. The origin seems lost in the mists. Does anybody have any information? I'd really like to know.

The Federal Register for Nov. 1 (Page 13,094) makes a startling disclosure concerning OPA. It has placed a ceiling of $2 a ton on all garbage and will sold on the Island of Kauai, in Hawaii.

This is beautiful and inspiring, like moonlight on the beach at Waikiki. It has inspired me to write this lyrical tone poem, with its haunting memories of the islands: "Can't you hear those ukuleles

"Strumming love songs sweet and low,
"There's a rolling on the garbage
"Where they sing Aloha Oo."

A COLUMNIST, whose name is, either Westbrook Pegler or Lydia Pinkham—I am no good at catching names—confided he had undergone quite an experience with the U. S. Secret Service.

It seems Mr. Pegler or Pinkham—had something to communicate to Secret Service. A date was made for a meeting. But, in the meantime, Mr. Pegler broke a couple of ribs. "I have no intention of revealing how I broke the ribs," said Mr. Pegler, "because you will go running right to Dan Tolan with the information and he will cancel my honorary membership in the Teamsters' Union. Mr. Tolan does not like people to have busted ribs unless his boys do it."

"However, the thing was so painful I was unable to take a bath. In consequence I became a bit queasy, as we say in the PAC. "I was wondering how to overcome this difficulty when the Secret Service men arrived. So I said to them: 'Gentlemen, if you will be so good as to strap me up so I can take a bath I will be glad to tell you all.'"

"They were quite obliging. They did it then and: "Secret Service work is so interesting. You get a chance to handle the most delightful people!"

THE United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals has just handed down this drastic decision:

"The United States vs. Little Joe Wiesenfeld Co. Opinion by Associate Judge Owen W. Blaine: Bare saddle seats were assessed at 25.0/0 as manufactures of leather. The importer protested they were properly dutiable at 20.0/0 as saddlery. The court sustained the protest."

Of course the seats would be more if people were in them.

THE DEMOCRATIC National Committee had a large order for campaign material at a printer's when the printing strike was called.

THE SCREEN'S GLAMOUR gals wouldn't have much oomph, if it weren't for their eyes... solicitously cultivated like hot-house orchids... rippling-languor large, lustrous, penetrating orbs to charm you with a glance and hold you under their spell. Many a collared neck out there, even the face on the cutting room floor, means she had more sills for eyes... and paddles for lashes.

Stop me if I'm wrong... but is there a woman in the house who doesn't WANT her eyelashes curled out to THERE... (you may think dark and silky)... Is there a girl who doesn't LIKE to flatter thickly-fringed lids of her soul-mates? Silhouettes may be intriguing, clothes may be very attractive... but for definite facial persuasion the EYES have it.

We're not saying that you should rush to your mirror and smear an overdose of mascara on your lashes to achieve the haunting, haunting darkness that eyes should have. That's NOT for daytime smartness... but definitely LET the electric lights play on such artifice.

But we're saying that if you deftly touch up your lashes with a trusted black eyelash cream... neither art nor nature need be afraid... and which serves a two-fold purpose: makes the eyes themselves... It's a double-edged sword... women will love for daytime eye make-up... since it will enhance their appearance without making them obvious and over-dressed. Its creamy formula helps to soften the lashes and enhances their continued growth as it gives them a shiny accent.

MAKES LASHES MORE LUXURANT

It is an ebony eyelash cream and darkener... lifting the lashes from the hamdium to the devastating look, but with a naturalness you never thought possible. It is less than dark, silky, more luxuriant... and broadens your eyes into looking larger and deeper. It has been a standby decoy of beauty-wise women for years... to smooth a bit of cream over the lashes to give that lovely shiny-brightness.

That's why this black eyelash cream... with extra-special propensities... is a better-than-good substitute... since it will coat the eyelashes out to long, lasting, curled loveliness and simultaneously darken them. There is no brush to use. A whisk of your creamed fingertip will make those lashes look heavenly and your eyes flash and twinkle like diamonds in the sky.

For the name of this unusual eyelash cream darkener, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR BRIGHT AND HYPNOTIZING EYES... look to their lashes and mother them with a black creamy fondness that will not only make them look dark, silky and more luxuriant... but cream-coax them into curling out to THERE. Although not from Manhattan, Universal Star Maria Montez is a lovely Latin blessed with the sparkling eye heritage of her people.

My Day

By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Sunday—Yesterday afternoon was a very exciting afternoon for me, because four of the officers from our son's reconnaissance wing in Europe, who have been sent back on business, turned up in the late afternoon at our little apartment in New York city, bringing me a letter of very recent date and telling me many things of great interest.

Some young people who have been staying with us had also heard from a pilot friend of theirs whom they had not seen for two years, and when he came in all these returned aviators found they had come back on the same airship.

YESTERDAY was a busy day. My husband was touring New England, while I was doing my customary Saturday before election rounds in New York City.

A luncheon in the Bronx to meet the workers there; a tea in Manhattan presided over by Mrs. William H. Ford, our Democratic national committee woman; and, finally, a train to Potsdam where I spoke in the evening before coming on to Hyde Park.

Mrs. Ronald Roosevelt spoke at our Hyde Park rally, but I got there in time to say a few words of greeting to our friends, and to take her home with me for the night.

The war seems so much closer to me than the campaign that I have to remind myself very often of what I tell other people—namely, that our business of citizenship is just as important in its way as the gruesome business of war.

When you sit night after night and read letters from boys in the service, from members of their families at home, and realize what this war means in human suffering, you have to keep reminding yourself that without the active participation of every citizen in his government there is no chance that we can keep it from happening again.

MOST OF US live so much in the present that when we read of sorrow we want to do something now to alleviate it. But this mass sorrow that exists for us all can only be prevented by a mass determination to understand the problems of the world, and to act wisely as individual citizens in the future.

War Bond Grand Wedding Gift

By FRANCES BECKMAN

DEAR MRS. BECKMAN: My brother is to be married shortly and we want to give him a war bond as a gift. Since we are very devoted to his wife-to-be and do not want to offend her, whose name should appear on the bond? If both names, in what order and how worded? E. K.

Since all wedding presents should be sent to the bride-to-be, the war bond should carry her name only. You may either have it made out in her maiden name now, to be changed after the wedding to her married name, or tell her this bond is to be your wedding present to her, and give it to her after the wedding, made out in her married name (and this form, on a war bond is Mrs. Mary Smith Brown).

The Correct Thing

By ELINOR AMES

WRONG AND DANGEROUS!—Don't let your child climb on or play around parked cars. Scratchers from youngster's shoes won't please the car owner and there is always the very real danger of a car starting to roll or being hit by a passing vehicle.

PLAIN SKIRT, plaid jacket and bow-topped half-plain, half-plaid vest... fashioned in bright Persian flame, one of the season's new colors... comprises this smart fall outfit for all-day wear. The broken lines of the jacket plaid are black... and the entire costume is made of Wesly Simpson's new flannel-like rayon fabric. It's good-looking and serviceable.—R. M.

Sailor Hats Here Again

By BETTINA BEDWELL

ASURE sign that winter is here is the reappearance of the sailor hat, which is a lot more dependable as an augury of the season than is a snowstorm. Winter sailors can be counted on to show up about this time, and this year they are coming along a usual.

I think they are about the best yet, this winter. Made of velvet or felt and glorified with rich trimmings, sailors are a really dressy item. Lilly Duché does them as well as they can be done, and she shows them with accompanying scarves, the two so beautifully embroidered they'd dress up any outfit.

One of her models is sketched. Made of black felt this small, stiff sailor hat is trimmed with lush pink velvet ribbon embroidered in seed pearls, and tied in a big bow at the front. A scarf of pink velvet with seed pearl embroidery is a companion piece to the hat.

A HEARTY SOUP makes an excellent main dish for a nourishing lunch or simple dinner. In fact, when meat and vegetables are served together, the soup becomes a one-dish meal—with certain advantages. You may prepare it in advance, then reheat it while you're getting the rest of the meal. Also, the soup may be kept hot, in a case dinner is delayed.

Many a delicious and satisfying soup may be made with the utility best which is now plentiful and inexpensive. The basic recipe for soup, given below may be used in a wide variety of different soups—such as potato soup, French onion soup, or Chicken soup. For those who prefer to cook the meat and vegetables together, victory vegetable soup and navy bean soup are suggested. When serving a meat-and-vegetable soup, you may cut or have the meat in small pieces in the soup, or slice it and served along with it.

Here is a good pattern to follow for a dinner menu featuring soup as the main dish: Soup served in bowls, generous salads, some kind of hot bread, beverage, and a substantial dessert such as fruit cobbler, pie, or steamed pudding with a sauce.

5 whole cloves

Any other seasonings
Cut meat from bones and brown well. Cover bones and browned meat with water. Add remaining ingredients, cover and simmer for 3 1/2 to 4 hours. Strain, cut, remove fat and strain again. Use for soups and sauces. Use meat in a soup or leftover dish.

NAVY BEAN SOUP

1 cup navy beans
2 lbs. beef brisket
2 qts. water
1 tsp. salt
Parsley leaves
1 cup chopped celery
1 medium onion
1 No. 10 can tomatoes
Wash and soak beans overnight. Wipe meat with damp cloth. Cover with water and bring to a boil. Skim, add salt, drained beans, parsley and celery leaves tied in a bunch. Simmer two hours. Add celery, sliced onions and tomatoes. Continue cooking until meat and beans are tender. The meat may be sliced and served with the soup.

VICTORY VEGETABLE SOUP

3 to 4 lbs. soup bone or beef, shank
2 qts. cold water
1 tsp. salt
1 small onion, sliced
2 cups tomatoes
6 sprigs parsley
1 head cabbage, shredded
2 to 6 carrots, sliced
2 cups green beans
1 cup potato, diced
1 cup celery, chopped
1/2 cup rice or barley, if desired

Cut meat from bones and brown well. Cover meat and bones with water. Add salt and onion; simmer at least 2 hours. Add vegetables and rice or barley; simmer 1 hour longer. (The cooking time given in these recipes is for utility beef. Choice and good grades of beef require less time.)

Write Martha Lee for other suggestions for using unrationed utility beef—or call us at LIBerty 4000

Memorial Mass By Fr. Boucher

Annual memorial mass for the 10th Battalion, 104th Infantry, A. F., will be celebrated Sunday at 11:30 in St. Anne's Church, St. Stephens St., Back Bay, by Rev. Fr. Boucher of Fall River, war-time chaplain of the battalion.

Preceding the mass will be a parade from the YD Club, Huntington ave. A delegation from the 26th Infantry, Massachusetts State Guard, under command of Col. Vincent C. Eizen, D.S.C., will attend the services for the World War Veterans.

A dinner will be tendered Fr. Boucher at the Governor Hotel at 1 p. m. Maj. John J. Gleason has appointed Joseph McNally, D.S.C., general chairman of a committee comprising former members of the battalion.

Will Launch Warship Named for Nurse

The destroyer Hagler, last combatant vessel of the Navy to be named in honor of a woman in a naval service, will be launched at the Bath Iron Works Sunday, the First Naval District announced today.

Bearing the name of the late Mrs. Lenah S. Hagler, registered nurse, first superintendent of the

Boston American, Nov. 6—29

Navy Nurse Corps, the ship will be christened by Mrs. Hagler's sister, Mrs. A. M. Wheaton, of Wollville, Nova Scotia.

Reds Burrow Into Budapest

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Furious fighting raged in the suburbs of shell-torn Budapest today as heavy Russian infantry forces joined armored vanguards which had penetrated the defenses of the Hungarian capital from the north and south on the east side of the Danube river.

The German radio announced early today that Soviet tanks crashed into the southern metropolitan limits, only two miles from the heart of the city, while Bucharest broadcasts said other Red army units, racing around the eastern side of the capital, stormed the northern suburbs through Ujpest.

Red army troops threatened to gain a bridgehead across the eastern fork of the Danube, just south of Budapest, and cross to narrow Csepel island which divides the river into two arms for 30 miles southward.

The Moscow communique announced the occupation of nine suburban points by Soviet troops in the last hours, including Ujlo rail town eight miles from the city on the Budapest-Cegled trunk line.

Germans Attack On Italian Front

ROME, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Germans began aggressive patrolling of Allied positions in Italy today and several Nazi planes attacked the Fifth Army sector below Bologna, but Allied headquarters said frontline positions were virtually unchanged.

The weather cleared a bit after several weeks of heavy rains. Mud and swollen streams still hampered operations.

The Germans clung to the village of Ronco and buildings on a corner of Forth airfield. Yesterday the Nazis brought six-barreled mortars into action, but their tanks withdrew under sharp Allied artillery fire.

An Allied communique disclosed that during five days Allied warships bombarded positions near the Franco-Italian border.

Americans threw back a small-scale attack near Mount Belmonte. The Fifth Army troops were using the lull in fighting to repair roads and dry out equipment.

pushing the enemy all along the front, scoring gains against stiff resistance around Meijel in Eastern Holland, southeast of Aachen, above Metz, and in the Vosges mountains.

In the Hurtgen forest area southeast of Aachen, where Yank infantry has made the deepest penetration inside Germany, American troops who were thrown out of Schmidt by an enemy counter-attack mopped up German units in the woods a mile west of that town, and scored minor gains elsewhere. Extensive mine fields slowed the Yanks.

An NBC broadcast from Germany said, "Already this morning the Germans have launched three counterattacks from three directions" in a renewal of the battle of Schmidt.

"German planes are appearing all over the place," the broadcast added. "The seriousness with which the enemy regards this situation is evidenced by the fact that he is opposing us around Schmidt not with second-rate soldiers, but with crack troops, well trained—the very best he has."

1800 Planes Again Hit Reich

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP) More than 1800 American bombers and fighters attacked industrial targets in western Germany again today as the Allies carried the mightiest bombing siege of the war into the third straight day.

The main force from an armada of more than 1100 Eighth Airforce Liberators and Fortresses went for oil refineries in the Hamburg-Harburg region. Others attacked industrial and rail objectives in the Ruhr valley.

The bombers were escorted by 700 Mustangs and Thunderbolts.

British Mosquito bombers sailed deep into southwestern Germany and attacked Stuttgart twice last night to keep the around-the-clock offensive going.

Tito Reveals Gains Along Greek Border

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Marshal Tito announced in a communique today the entire Yugoslav-Greek frontier had been brought under control of his Partisan forces with liberation of Ritioli.

Albanian patriots have gained control of the greater part of Tirana, their capital, in three days of street fighting, the communique said.

North Sea Planes Hurl Robots at Britain

LONDON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Robots launched from planes over the North sea were directed at southern England and the London area last night, but apparently only a few penetrated the ring of defenses.

Several flying bombs were shot into the sea off East Anglia, and one robot-launching Heinkel plane was destroyed. London had a brief alert.

U. S. Fliers Destroy 10 Nazi Jet Planes

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Nov. 6 (AP)—American fighter-bombers yesterday destroyed 10 jet propelled German fighter planes parked on three airfields.

The jet planes, which have been appearing on the western front, were among 28 German aircraft destroyed by a Pioneer Mustang group in attacks at Halle, Cranhaim and Sachsenheim.

CARE SAVES WEAR

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—My husband is in Italy and he recently wrote me he has been reclassified and will be sent to France to work in a machine shop for the U. S. government. Will he receive same Army pay and does his monthly allotment check continue, or is he considered a civilian? He was a machinist prior to entering service.

S. B. Lynn.

A—No doubt your husband still remains a member of the Army. You will continue to receive allotment and your husband's pay, corresponding to his rank. If he were to receive a discharge the procedure would be to return him to the United States. He is being assigned to a non-combatant job, a common practice of the Army for men declared unfit for further combat duty.

Q—Would you please publish the address where information can be obtained regarding vocational training for a discharged veteran? A. B. Dover, N. H.

A—Veterans' Bureau, Federal Building, Boston, Mass.

Q—My husband was recently killed in action. His mother and myself are receiving monthly payments on his government insurance. In the event of his mother's death do I receive the remaining unpaid insurance indemnities? A. E. Boston

A—Yes, as co-beneficiary and widow.

Q—Please tell me what a CM is receives as base pay. He has family allotment deducted? M. B. Rockland

A—Base pay $114, plus 20 per cent overseas duty, $22 monthly deducted from pay for family allowance.

Q—A bachelor soldier now missing in action has as next-of-kin a father, two brothers, two sisters and an illegitimate child, recognized as such by the family. In event of death notification, who is legally entitled to the six months gratuity allowance? Can the illegitimate child be named beneficiary on government insurance policy? W. G. Marlboro.

A—The first part of your question is one that would require a ruling by the War Dept. after certain facts were determined. I have been informed unofficially that the father would receive the gratuity pay. Regarding National Service Life Insurance, the illegitimate child is eligible to be named beneficiary.

Q—Are members of the Navy, wounded as a result of enemy action, entitled to the Purple Heart? J. B. Bow, N. H.

A—Yes.

Questions submitted to Veterans' Friend Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston 6, Mass., will be answered in this daily column.

TO ALL VETERANS -- TO ALL IN THE ARMED FORCES AND TO ALL THEIR FAMILIES --

We, the undersigned, who have been State Officers of Veteran organizations and their Auxiliaries, hereby go on public record wholeheartedly endorsing the candidacy for Governor of HORACE T. CAHILL. As a legislator, Speaker of the House and Lieutenant Governor, he has always had the veterans' welfare at heart.

The greatest problems facing you and all of us, are the needs of the returning veteran... his care, rehabilitation and replacement in home and in business life.

We know Horace Cahill. He has helped us untrillingly in furthering veterans' legislation. He has always been a spearhead at the State House, fighting the real fight for all veterans and their dependents.

A flier in the last War, Horace T. Cahill is better qualified to serve you and your returning veterans. He knows their problems and all the answers. His opponent does not!

It takes a veteran to know a veteran. Vote for the only veteran running for Governor, HORACE T. CAHILL.

Three to Represent Hub in History Final

The three best local test papers from all public and parochial high schools whose students are competing in the William Randolph Hearst National American History Awards will be so adjudged by a committee which will select the three Boston pupils to represent the city in the national finals.

Elimination examinations will be held in the schools participating on Thursday, Nov. 30, with the students being required to answer 20 questions on American history and write an essay not exceeding 250 words on some historical subject to be announced later.

The three students chosen as finalists from Boston will compete in the national tests on Monday, Dec. 11, which will be held in each of the 13 participating cities. Boston finalists will take their examinations in Faneuil Hall.

Awards totaling $850 in War Bonds will be distributed among the 11 finalists. The first prize will be $300 in bonds. The others are: Second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25; five awards of $100 each and 32 prizes of $50 each, all in War Bonds.

Boston students also will share in a total of $1000 in War Bonds which have been donated by the Boston American, Record and Sunday Advertiser. In addition, the school whose students make the best record will be given a $100 set of books on American History.

Local awards are: First, $200; second, $100; third, $75; fourth through sixth, $50 each, all in War Bonds.

"I wuz thinkin'..."

by IZZY ORT

If I had room in dis "Tellem" fer a title I wold call dis little piece a "VIRTUE IZ ITS OWN REWARD" or "MURRAY FER IZZY". Nuthin' like blowin' yer own horn, see me, but I ain't often I get the chance, so here goes . . . A Mrs. Dill of Allston, a regular reader of "I wuz thinkin'", kindly informed us last week dat she likes us fer da way we treat the service guys and gals and fer our "generosity in general." At last having found a person who recognizes and acclaims real sterling karakter of me own type, last Tuesday, Oct. 31st, Mrs. Dill wuz invite to be our guest in celebration of her 73rd birthday. Mrs. Dill, who ha. two sons in the service, had one grand time in me Essex Street place, watching the shows in me Grille and El Tropico Room, and being entertained by Mrs. Ort, me daughter and son-in-law, Well, Mrs. Dill, thanks for the swell compliment, which I will try to live up to. We are all lookin' forward to havin' you wid us next year fer another birthday celebration . . . Yers truly wuz shoof a proud guy da other day to receive in da mail from Sgt. Chick Lechtenberg a genuine German helmet, which I will put in me window fer you all to see. It's a perty lookin' thing to me, coz it represents one dead Nazi. GI Joes Like Yule Cardsweet

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6 (AP) — When it comes to Christmas cards, GI Joe likes his sweet and sentimental.
T. W. Lacy, who manages the military service for a local greeting card company, said today that when the business first started the greiviers almost busted their sides laughing at humorous stuff for the mhy trade.

But thouldier, sailor or marine sp their dough on scenes shot snow-covered outages, mistle, poinsettias, Santa Claus, he and candles just devarning i an old-fashioned Christmas.

Harvard Starts Its 309th Year

Harvard University today begins its 309th academic year with an enrollment which includes 5441 military and naval men and 1500 civilians. Included in the latter are 145 discharged veterans of World War II.

Only department to maintain its penitence enrollment is the Medical School, where 98 civilians, 234 Army men and 173 Navy men are registered.

Radcliffe College, now under educational direction of Harvard, also opened its winter term with freshmen in the First Church, Cambridge. More than 1000 students were expected to enroll.

Bishop Sherrill Hailed On 54th Birthday

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, today was receiving congratulations on his 54th birthday anniversary.

In addition to his many regular church duties, the bishop is chairman of the Army and Navy Commission of the Episcopal Church, as well as vice-chairman of the General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains.

Joe E. Brown's Daughter Critical

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Nov. 6 (INS)—Mary Brown, 14-year-old daughter of Comedian Joe E. Brown, was in critical condition at the Santa Monica Hospital today following an auto accident in which she suffered a basal skull fracture, brain contusions and a severe compound fracture of the right leg.

Her sister, Cathryn M., 11, suffered multiple lacerations of the face and contusions of the back and spine.

Freddie Bartholomew, now in the Army, driver of the car that collided with the Brown machine, was unhurt. His grandfather, Frederick Bartholomew, 85, was taken to the hospital with cuts and bruises and a suffering from shock.

The Brown car was being driven by Betty Lee Case, 22, who attends the Brown children. She was not injured.

New Bruin Goalie Impresses Dutton

By BILL GRIMES

After the Bruins-Maple Leaf game in Toronto last Saturday, I was sitting in the lobby of the Royal York Hotel "fanning" with Jimmy "Sailor" Herberts, who starred for the Bruins in the middle of the 1930s.

"What are you doing around here, Red?" he asked. "I'm on my way back to Calgary," replied the loquacious Mr. Dutton. "I'm going to operate this league by remote control until December."

Dutton had flown to Toronto from Montreal, arriving just before game time but he didn't show himself around the press room at the Gardens. He took a plane for the West last night.

"My heart went out for that young Bennett tonight," moaned Dutton. "I must have been a great defense man in my day, after watching that exhibition."

"I saw that kid in Montreal against the Canadiens and he was a stand-out," continued the proxy, "but he's higher in my book after his work tonight. And, don't lose track of the fact that he was playing before a partisan capacity crowd and against the best balanced club Toronto has had in years."

TYPHOON LINE REAL GOOD

"Ross has picked up some good kids. His most serious problem is his veterans. That kid line is okay. What's the name he has for them, Spitfires? No, Typhoons. Smith and Cupolo caught my eye, as they did in Montreal last week."

Mario looks and acts as though he was overweight, but he's only a kid and a week of hard skating will peel him down.

"I've had favorable reports on Smith before the boy left Regina to come East and play at Oshawa. And, of course, you understand that all of the good hockey players come from Western Canada. Although he is just out of junior hockey, Smith needs weight more than he does experience. He doesn't make many mistakes and I was agreeably surprised at the clever plays he sets up. Cupolo is another Dumart. He isn't flashy but he's very effective. And, like Porky, his work will not be appreciated by the fans until they have analyzed his style."

"Before I left Montreal I cleared two players for Ross. And you can take my word for it that they will help the Bruins. They are Razzini and Gaudreault, who were with the Quebec Aces. And that Filion, who will go to Boston with Razzini and Gaudreault Monday night, also has what it takes to make good in this league."

"Ross gave Razzini, Gaudreault and Filion in action against his club a few times in exhibition games at Quebec City. I saw them in the senior group. It wouldn't surprise me if at least a couple of Boston's veteran forwards had to step aside to make room for these newcomers."

"They are fast skaters and play a rugged brand of hockey."

They are the types I tried to get but seldom did when I was the Americans. They are great.

back checkers and take the pressure off the defense by coming back fast and breaking up plays. Then, too after they have possession of the puck, they know how to get out of their own zone."

"From what you've seen," I asked, "how do the clubs shape up?"

KEEP AN EYE ON LEAFS

"Well, I'll tell you," replied Dutton. "Les Canadiens, Maple Leafs and the Red Wings are pretty evenly matched and stronger than Boston, New York and Chicago. How the favorites will finish, I wouldn't know. But, I do know that if the Maple Leafs get too far out in front, they'll be tough to overtake. Day has a well balanced club, and of course, with that Calgarian, Frankie McCool in the nets, he has an ace in the hole."

"And, as I just told you, I like those kids that Ross picked up. The Bruins have always been slow starters, so if Ross can get this squad to roll like he has many in the past, Boston should get the call over Chicago and New York for a playoff berth."

Mgr. Art Ross returned from Toronto this morning with his system full of "flu" germs. After last Wednesday when he went to Toronto from Detroit, Uncle Arthur didn't see anything of the Queen City other than his hotel room and he returned home against the advice of his doctor who insisted that he was too sick to travel.

Somerville May Turn Back Malden

By MIKE GILLOOLY

The past weekend will be long remembered as the first upset week in the schoolboy season.

Upsets were the rule instead of the exception and last Saturday's results may be the criterion of what's to come.

For this week Malden, leading team in class A, must take its toughest hurdle, Somerville, if it wants to go through undefeated and become state champion. This same Malden had the scare of its life against Brockton and had to come from behind to win. Brockton wasn't considered as a potential threat to the Malden reign, as it had been beaten by Newton and Medford. The Golden Tornadoes walloped Newton and the Turkey Day game with Medford will fall way below par.

Nonetheless Malden had to come from behind with a great third period surge, brought about chiefly by Brockton miscues, to remain on top.

Somerville lost its opener to powerful Chelsea to practically eliminate it from state-wide recognition but Somerville will go all out to knock Malden from the select undefeated and untied list. If Fran Rooney and Plato Sermos continue to travel as they have in the past few games, Somerville can do it.

Coach Tom Lynch's squad has improved immensely. The victory over Medford on Columbus Day seemed to be the turning point. Since then Somerville has rough shod over Melrose and spotted Keith Academy a touch-down before scoring 20 points.

SOMERVILLE HAS SIZE

Weight and height give Somerville an edge in these departments and tradition is on the Somerville side. Since just prior to World War I as far back as we could check, Malden has won four state crowns. Not one of these title holders had a perfect year. Three times the state was marred by a tie and in the fourth Malden lost one.

And don't think that Malden is taking this one in stride. Every minor detail will be discussed, they will be drilled as never before. But Malden will be ready. Every man is in top shape including Izzy Yodlin, the passer with a whip-like arm, Nick Belis, Alger Macy and Bill Hurton. A "minor detail" will be discussed against Brockton and they should be no less effective this week.

There it is and regardless of the outcome it should be the game of the year.

In-again-out-again-Finnigan had nothing on the Salem-Peabody game scheduled for next Sunday.

Purple Five Plays 12 Games

WORCESTER, Nov. 6 (INS)—The Holy Cross Crusaders will play a major basketball schedule for the first time since 1934-1935, it was announced today by Director of Athletics, Jack Barry.

Since construction of the new Holy Cross gymnasium has not yet been started, all games will be played on the road.

The Crusaders will also play three games at the Boston Garden, which will sponsor intercollegiate doubleheaders for the first time this winter. The Holy Cross schedule is as follows:

Dec. 9, Temple University, Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Pa.; Dec. 16, Cushing General Hospital, Framingham; Dec. 23, Dedux at Boston; Jan. 4, Brown at Providence, R. I.; Jan. 13, Tufts at Medford; Jan. 20, Yale at New Haven, Ct.; Jan. 27, Harvard at Cambridge; Jan. 31, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester (tentative); Feb. 3, Dartmouth at Hanover, N. H.; Feb. 4, St. Francis College at Boston; Feb. 10, Trinity at Hartford, Ct.

Today a year ago—Notre Dame whipped Army, 26-0; Navy defeated Penn., 24-7.

Three years ago—Buff Donelli quit as Pittsburgh Steeler coach, of National Football League, when Com. Elmer Layden refused to let him make trip to Far West.

Five years ago—World Champion New York Yankees received winners' share of World Series, $5341.89; Cincinnati Reds got $4193.38.

Ten years ago—Six-year-old Equipse, in return to form, won Whitney Gold Cup at Belmont Park and boosted earnings to $336,000.

Originally scheduled for Salem it was then moved to Lynn's Manning Bowl. Salem reneged, saying it was its home game and it would be played in Salem or not at all.

One day it's on, the next day it's off. On Friday rumors, and reliable ones, too, had everything peaceful along the North Shore. Saturday's reports had the game cancelled. Sunday afternoon both teams had agreed to play at Salem. Last night a radio station announced to the world that the site is Manning Bowl. Officials from both schools deny it.

We give up.

18 Grid Teams Stay In Unbeaten Class

The list of football's unbeaten and untied teams was shaved to 18 last week. The latest to topple from the elite group were Notre Dame (beaten by Navy), Georgia Tech (beaten by Duke), Michigan State (beaten by Missouri), and Oklahoma Aggies (beaten by Norman Navy).

Saugus Supports Thompson in Bout

Unbeaten Howard Thompson, heavyweight from Saugus, may be cheered by the unbeaten high school football team from his home town next Friday night when he steps 10-rounds for the Callahan A. C. at Mechanics Building with Freddy Schott of Paterson, New Jersey.

Believing it fitting that Thompson should have the support of the undefeated schoolboy eleven from Saugus, Jack O'Brien extended an invitation for the entire team to be on hand when their idol climbs into the ring.

"Red" Welch, the manager of Howard Thompson, said that a banner turnout could be expected from communities scattered along the North Shore and from the Charlestown Navy Yard where the heavyweight is fitting ships to smack the Axis.

Schott will arrive here Wednesday and work out at Kelley & Hayes Gym, Wednesday and Thursday.

Army Grid Ace In Second Place

Scoring three touchdowns against Villanova, Army's Glenn Davis, a Los Angeles youth, climbed within two points of first place last week in college football's high scoring race.

The three six-pointers gave Davis a total of 78 points to 80 for Lee Tressel, of Baldwin-Wallace. Tressel has been detached from the Naval Unit at Baldwin-Wallace and did not play on Saturday.

There is a six-way tie for third place at 66 points apiece between Claude Young, of Illinois; Keith Decourcy, of Washington; Billy Cromer, of Arkansas Aggies; Rock Brinkley, of Wake Forest; Tom McWilliams, of Mississippi State; ad Del Cockayne, of Drake.

"I've been for Roosevelt before ... BUT NOT THIS TIME" Gary Cooper

All of us have a great stake in this election and that's why all of us have been worrying—more than most times, I think—about how we should vote. For my own self, here's how I came to my own conclusion and here's what it is. I am going to vote for Governor Dewey because he's efficient—and, because he's honest. That's terribly important, I think, his being honest. Matter of fact, I've been for Mr. Roosevelt before—but not this time. There's been too many broken promises to suit me—and too much double talk.

I was born in Helena, Montana, and every year along about this time—election time—I get to thinking about the people I grew up with, the men and women that had the same education I had—and that had the same principles drilled into them for judging public officials that I had. I have a feeling that they've all been trying their best—like I have—to figure out how to cast their votes where they'll do the most good for this country that's done so much for all of us. And that means to me, the way I'm sure it does to them, that first of all the man we vote for has got to be honest. That's Governor Dewey, to my mind. And there's another thing I was wondering how to put into words—until an old friend of mine put it into words for me the other day. He's fixing up an old saddle of mine and we got to talking about the election and I said to him:

"Cap, I guess you're going to vote for Roosevelt again this year. Huh?" And he looked at me and said "Nope, not this time. I don't like the company he's keeping."

I disagree with the New Deal belief that the America all of us love is old and worn-out and finished—and has to borrow foreign notions that don't even seem to work any too well where they come from. I agree with Governor Dewey that our country is a young country that just has to make up its mind to be itself again. It can be itself again, if Governor Dewey is elected. And that's why I think it's time for a change.

Three things you should know before you vote

1. No matter how you register or in which party you are enrolled, you can vote for Dewey.
2. The ballot is absolutely secret. Nobody can possibly know who you vote for on election day.
3. It's every citizen's duty to vote—be sure you do!
